History of Sage-ing Guild

The Sage-ing Guild was organized at the October 2004 Colorado Retreat to coordinate efforts in continuing the eldering work of Rabbi Zalman Schachter-Shalomi. Our purpose is to be of service to Sage-ing Leaders. Our mission statement, "...to empower a community of Sage-ing Leaders whose culture reflects the values of care, respect and responsibility among the elders in our world," is one we take very seriously. Although efforts were made to keep the Spiritual Eldering Institute (SEI) alive, the Institute's financial difficulty could not be reversed. SEI closed in November 2005. Although the Guild serves a different and separate purpose from SEI, all of us received our training and inspiration from SEI and its leaders. We are focused upon bringing to all of you an organization dedicated to right relationship, financial stewardship and communication. And we are convinced:

- that Sage-ing Programs are necessary to change the paradigm of aging in the culture, and
- that our Sage-ing Leaders are agents of the Vision/Mission of the Guild.

Certified Sage-ing Leadership Training Program

Changing the paradigm from Aging to Sage-ing

The Sage-ing Guild's mission is to change the paradigm of Aging by building a community of leaders to transmit the wisdom of Sage-ing.

Certified Sage-ing Leadership Training

The Certified Sage-ing Leadership Training program is structured to provide content and experience relevant to leading older adult groups in personal and spiritual development workshops. Interns attend a beginning weekend of training, complete 15 hours of leading community workshops and classes while working with a CSL mentor and attend a final certification weekend.

As in the training of all healing practitioners, we must first apply “the practical work of translating theory into practice in the laboratory of our own life.” The Sage-ing Guild faculty has concluded that the introspective inner work and the presentation skills required in the training program take about a year from the training weekend to complete.

“... by recognizing our inherent potential, by desiring the fullest expression of our unique gifts, and by empowering us to act through an infusion of loving wisdom-

we receive a spark, comparable to a spiritual battery jump, that enables us to embrace our destiny and move courageously into the future”

Reb Zalman
